Description

The Troyer bluebird box, commonly called the slot box, is constructed from 3/4 inch weather resistant cedar with zinc plated hardware for durability. The roof is made with Poly-Tuff post consumer recycled plastic for strength and durability. Opens for easy monitoring and cleaning. Considered sparrow resistant as research does show it is rarely used by house sparrows. Approved by the North American Bluebird Society this box is a must for any bluebird trails. Includes bolt for mounting and a wooden nest tray.

Bring Back the Bluebirds
Where the Bluebirds eat from our hands!

Managed a business and for many years, and having them eating from our hands, created so much interest that we were motivated to publish the booklet Bring Back the Bluebirds. Even on YOUR hand! It consists of wood-bird feeder and sparrow resistant bluebird house patterns, a U.S. trail management, wildlife-park, control, predator control and raising your own nest eggs. The color booklet shows you how to train bluebirds to eat from your hand.

The sparrow resistant bluebird house for sparrow infested areas.

•Ridge from Western Red Cedar for light weight and durable except for roof.

•House is unpainted.

•Roof is made from Poly-Tuff™ for greater exterior quality.

•Includes hanging bolt with nut and wooden nest tray.
